Course Content and Educational Objectives

This 20-module online program is offered to MFT, LCSW, LEP, and LPCC professionals who desire to: a) enhance their skills by learning the NLP approach or b) collect CEUs for licensure renewal. The course has two sections: a) at the Practitioner Level, the participant practiced and learns classic NLP techniques and b) at the Master's Level, the participant learns unique models of human development and communication which place techniques in a useful context.

Students learn to apply the NLP techniques in three ways: as personal development, as a tool for working with clients, and as a set of skills to teach clients.

The course teaches to all three learning styles: visual, audio, and kinesthetic.

There are audio and visual lecture presentations; as well as, written homework assignments which involve applying skills learned.

At the completion of the 20-module NLP Practitioner/Master Practitioner course, the LEP, MFT, LCSW, LPCC continuing education student will be able to:

- Discuss the strategies and intent of the NLP approach as evidenced by completion of required essays for each module with an 80% passing rate
- Experience each NLP strategy by completing the Psyche Builders and Stealth Missions in the Modules as evidenced by submission of the essays
- Identify NLP tools which are most useful when working with clients and family members as evidenced by responses in the essays
- Teach clients specific skills for more effective living as evidenced by the two final exams

Course Completion Certificate:

Upon successful completion of this course, certificates are sent by mail the Saturday after the course is completed.
